To the staff at NewHire:

I wanted to take a moment to thank you for your help with Filter Services Illinois's recruiting needs! Not only have you saved me time and money, but most importantly, I hire the right person for the job.

NewHire is a quality tool that helps me find quality candidates quickly and efficiently. The time I save finding quality candidates makes New Hire a great investment, allowing me to focus my energy on other company issues.

NewHire is a unique product that gets you to the latter stages of hiring quickly and eliminates the headache of having to sift through hundreds of resumes and countless hours of interviewing.

I have used NewHire while hiring for five positions. I began with a NewHire Professional in February of 2008 and am currently working with staffing coordinator Weston Davis on a continuous recruiting package for sales representatives. In both cases I don't have to be as heavily involved in the resume reviewing process nor do I spend nearly as much time interviewing as I did in the past. Before, I would go through hundreds of resumes and set time aside to interview person after person, up to 20 people in one day.

With NewHire I just explain what I need in a qualified candidate up front and Weston is able to narrow down the applicant pool to relatively well qualified candidates for me to start my interviewing process with, saving significant time and money.

I will continue to recommend NewHire to my friends and colleagues.

Thanks again,

Jeff Gradek
